As a third generation hairstylist with 30 years of experience, Christine Cordey knows what her clients want. Building her career in the upstate New York village of Warwick, Christine relocated to Nyack over 20 years ago, opening her own salon in 2013. Since opening, Christine Cordey Salon has blossomed into a space of comfort and friendship. Christine has created a loyal client base from a child's first haircut to their wedding day and beyond. Christine's main source of joy is making people smile and feel good. She is blessed to have the creative talent of hairstyling as a way of deliver ship. Ever thankful for her hands, as they have given so much to her over the years by providing her the ability to create for her guests.
